Mississippi All Set To Abolish Public Schools

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A historic special session of the Mississippi Legislature was called today to lay the foundation for abolishing the U.S. Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools.

The key proposal was a constitutional amendment empowering the Legislature to abolish public schools. It provides two methods:

1. Statewide, by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature.
2. Local option, with individual counties and school districts being allowed to abolish their public schools and set up private systems.

Leaders of the Legal Educational Advisory Committee said the amendment would be introduced and sent to the constitution committee of each house as any other amendment would be handled.

The committee is composed of most important state officials.

The LEAC rejected the idea of asking each house to go into committee of the whole "to consider the amendment as soon as it was introduced." Fear of charges of "steam-roller" convinced the LEAC the amendment should go through the usual process.

Russians Shoot Down U.S. Navy Plane; Case Taken Before U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States put its latest cold war brush with Russia before the United Nations today.

U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. asked for an "early meeting" of the Security Council to take up the shooting down of a U.S. Navy plane off Siberia Saturday by Soviet jet fighters.

Lodge telephoned his request for the council meeting Monday night to Francisco Urrutia of Columbia, the 11-nation group's president for September.

Nine of the 10 U.S. crewmen aboard the two-engine Neptune patrol bomber were rescued unharmed after drifting all night on a raft. One man, Ens. Roger Henry Reid of Alameda, Calif., apparently went down with the plane.

The survivors said they were on a routine patrol mission well off the Siberian coast when two MIG15 jets opened fire on them without warning. With one wing on fire, the plane crashed and sank in the sea. The United States protested the attack as "wanton and unprovoked" in a strongly worded note to Russia.

Before its delivery, however, the Soviet Foreign Office had handed U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen a protest charging that the U.S. plane had flown within the Soviet frontiers and opened fire on two Soviet fighters which approached it. The Russian note said the Red pilots "were forced to open fire in return."

It was expected that Urrutia would not call the council to meet before next week.

In a second note rejecting the Russian protest completely, the State Department had said, "At no time did the United States Navy aircraft open fire on the Soviet air-

Treaty Provides For Mutual Aid In Armed Attack

By DON HUTH

MANILA (AP)—Two more articles of a proposed Southeast Asia security treaty were approved in secret negotiations here today, and a reliable source said foreign ministers of eight nations may have a pact ready for signing by Wednesday.

One more article was provisionally approved today, the source said.

The biggest controversy still to be ironed out involves military commitments to be made by the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Pakistan and the Philippines.

Two Holding Out

Thailand and the Philippines were reported holding out for an NATO-type agreement under which all members would come instantly to the defense of any member attacked.

The United States is arguing for a pact under which each member would react to an attack on another within its own constitutional framework.

Delegates today adopted an article stating that nations "by means of continuous and effective self-help and mutual aid will maintain and develop their individual and collective capacity to resist armed attack and to prevent and overcome subversive activity directed from without against their territorial integrity and political stability."

Communism Not Identified

The informed source said approval came after Thailand abandoned demands to include subversive activity within a nation as well as outside its borders.

The delegates also reportedly agreed to accept general terms in which the economic clause of the proposed draft treaty was written. It provides for cooperation "with each other in development of economic measures designed to promote economic stability and social well-being."

Asian nations had been holding out for more concrete proposals as to what will be done to develop economic stability and social well-being.

The source said the United States has indicated it is willing to drop from the treaty preamble the word "communism" as the specific aggressor against which the pact is being formed.

The United States had been holding out alone for identifying the aggressor as communism.

Dulles Explains Stand

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was quoted as telling the negotiators the United States could not sign a treaty without some form of reservation from other members explaining that "we do not consider any aggression the same as Communist aggression."

Dulles stressed, the source said, that the United States considers Communist aggression in Asia the same as an attack on the United States. On the other hand, he said, a local war in the Far East would not be considered by the President and Congress because it would not be a threat to the United States.

"This is a very complex matter but it's not going to hold up signing of the treaty," Dulles said. "However, all will have to understand our position when the treaty is signed."

Rotation Boosts U. S. Air Force Power In Europe

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—American air power in Europe will be increased under a plan announced today to rotate tactical Air Force units for temporary tours of duty on the Continent.

The program, starting in the next few weeks, will send squadrons of Air Force fighter-bombers which are used for the support of ground forces, and troop carrier outfits overseas under a schedule similar to that which has been in use for several years by the Strategic Air Command's force of long-range bombers.

The official announcement said the rotation plan was to test the mobility of fighter-bomber and troop carrier units and to "afford crew members the opportunity to obtain valuable experience and indoctrination in tactical Air Force operations in the European area."

The Air Force didn't say so, but the presence of additional squadrons under a schedule which will keep several on the scene at all times also means a net increase for air strength in Europe.

At present, the Air Force has approximately 14 wings of various categories based permanently in England or on the Continent as part of the Western European defense system. These include interceptor outfits as well as the jet fighter-bomber wings.

In addition, two wings of Strategic Air Command planes operate from bases in Europe and North Africa under the rotational program.

Travel Deaths Cut Down In Michigan Over Long Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rigid law enforcement, careful motorists and hot weather combined to hold down an expected high death count on Michigan highways over the long Labor Day weekend.

Traffic accidents took 21 lives over the three day holiday this year.

Last year 31 persons died on Michigan highways over Labor Day weekend and 35 perished over the Fourth of July weekend this year.

Dangerous Hours Safest

Surprisingly, few of the fatal accidents fell in the period from 5 p.m. Monday night to midnight Monday—a period previously tagged as "the most dangerous seven hours" on Michigan roads this year. Seventeen of the traffic deaths were recorded in the first 48 hours of the holiday.

In addition to the traffic deaths, seven persons drowned and six died in miscellaneous accidents. State police, aided by 688 National Guard troops mobilized for the holiday, patrolled highways in an effort to reduce accidents.

National Guardsmen manned troublesome intersections and rode patrol cars with local law enforcement officers.

Patrols Get Credit

Michigan led the nation in highway fatalities over the Fourth of July. The increased road patrols, aided by nine airplanes were credited for the reduced toll which placed Michigan third in the nationwide fatality count. Both Texas and California were ahead of Michigan for the Labor Day holiday.

The latest reported victims included: Joseph Macauley, of Gladstone, fatally injured Monday when struck by a car while crossing an US-2 near Gladstone.

Bert McCall, 89, of Otsego, a former mayor of that community, was killed when his car collided with another on US-131 a mile north of Plainwell Monday.

Albert Stevenson, 38, of Ferndale, drowned in the Huron River south of Ypsilanti while on a swimming party Monday. His wife and three children stood helplessly on the bank as Stevenson went down in 18 feet of water.

Escaped Robber On FBI Top Ten

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI today added John Harry Allen, 44-year-old robber who has escaped from prisons in five states, to its list of "10 most wanted fugitives."

The FBI said Allen has boasted he will shoot an officer rather than be captured, and it added: "since he faces countless years' imprisonment if captured, great caution should be exercised in approaching this fugitive."

Allen's latest break occurred March 25, when he scaled the wall of the Kansas State Penitentiary at Lansing. He was identified as the armed man who robbed the Nu-Way Market in Coffeyville, Kan., of more than $3,400 on April 24.

Shortly after the Coffeyville robbery, Allen was reported seen in Oklahoma. Subsequently, Kansas prison authorities received taunting letters from him. They were mailed in Arkansas.

He was serving a 21-year sentence for robbery when he escaped from the Kansas State Penitentiary.

Expectant Mother Tumbles To Death But Baby Is Saved

DALLAS (AP)—An expectant mother tumbled to her death from a third-floor window at Parkland Hospital Monday night, but doctors safely delivered her baby boy minutes later by Caesarian section.

Mrs. Elrena Marie Harris, 23, had arrived at the hospital about an hour earlier to have her second baby. She was in a ward with Mrs. Patricia Walker, 21, also there to have a child.

Hospital spokesman Rod Bell quoted Mrs. Walker as saying she noticed Mrs. Harris go to the window and stand there a minute. Mrs. Walker said she paid little attention until she noticed Mrs. Harris had disappeared.

Mrs. Walker called nurses and doctors, who ran downstairs and found Mrs. Harris' body. She was dead then, doctors said, but they rushed her to the emergency room and delivered an 8-pound, 6½-ounce son.

Nation's Labor Day Traffic Fatalities Lowest In 6 Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Accidents during the long Labor Day weekend killed more than 500 Americans but the traffic toll was the smallest in six years.

New tabulations today showed that traffic deaths numbered 360 drownings 92 and miscellaneous fatalities 83. The total was 535.

The traffic toll was lowest for the Labor Day holiday since 1948, when 293 were reported. It fell under the predicted total of 390 although it was somewhat higher than the total for a recent non-holiday weekend.

The over-all total was the lowest for the Labor Day period since 1948, when 407 accidental deaths of varying causes were counted. The holiday period began at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

It was preceded by a plea from President Eisenhower. He urged the nation's motorists to be careful and challenged them to "fool the experts" who had predicted 390 motor vehicle fatalities.

National Guardsmen reinforced state police in patrolling highways in Michigan, Wisconsin and Tennessee.

Ned H. Bearborn, president of the National Safety Council, termed the national toll "tragically high" but found it "encouraging" because it reflected a downward trend in traffic deaths.

"For the second straight holiday the traffic toll was not only well below our pre-holiday estimates but was the lowest for those holidays in recent years," he stated.

"The Labor Day traffic toll was the lowest since 1948. The Fourth of July traffic toll (348) was the lowest for any three-day period of that holiday since 1949."

"Add to this the fact that the day-to-day traffic toll has come down steadily all this year and there seems to be reason for believing that the efforts of so many people for so many years are beginning to pay off."

Governor Claims 240,000 Jobless

DETROIT (AP)—"We cannot find it in our hearts to rejoice when more than 240,000 of our Michigan people are out of work," Gov. Williams told a Labor Day audience at the conclusion of a giant parade in Detroit.

An estimated 100,000 took part in the traditional march while another 50,000 watched.

The parade went past City Hall where Williams made his address. The governor said "only fools" failed to face the fact "that the right to work is being threatened as it has not been threatened since the dark days of the 1930s."

The Democratic governor blamed "short-sighted government policies" for "unemployment, curtailed purchasing power and recession."

Patrick V. McNamara, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate, also addressed the crowd. He urged that Congress be called into emergency session to remove the excise taxes from automobiles.

This, he said, "would reduce the price of autos by about $100 and would be a tremendous stimulus to sales."

Formosa Warplanes Bomb China Coast

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist warplanes struck at Communist shipping along the China coast today and the Defense Ministry said a Red gunboat, more than 100 wooden military junks and five motorized vessels were damaged.

Identification of the junks as military craft could indicate the Reds were massing an invasion fleet for an attack on Quemoy, but there was no official confirmation.

Quemoy, Nationalist island outpost just off Amoy opposite Formosa, has been under intermittent Communist artillery attack since Friday, when the Reds bombarded it for five hours.

The Defense Ministry said Nationalist bombers struck today at Wuyi Island and Chihmei on the mainland coast within artillery range of Quemoy and at nearby Amoy, a major Red base.

Warships joined in the attack for the second day, the announcement said, adding that Red firepower on Amoy was crippled. Intermittent anti-aircraft fire stopped entirely during the attack, the ministry said.

Pilots said dense clouds of smoke billowed for 40 minutes from white stone fortress and for 25 minutes from east fortress, two major strongpoints at Amoy.

Fires also were reported on Tantung, a small island within gun range of Quemoy.

All planes returned safely, the ministry said.

Fair Crowd Drops

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan State Fair Monday reported attendance dropped for the Labor Day holiday. A crowd of 112,572 paid its way into the fairgrounds Monday compared to 120,000 on Labor Day in 1953. Monday's attendance brought this year's total to 385,169 for the first four days as compared with last year's 413,353. Fair officials blamed the hot weather and a strike of suburban bus drivers for the decrease.

Won't Give Up Badge

While the 50 "legal" contestants were registering, Violet Fuchs, 24, barged in, announced that she was Miss Connecticut and even obtained the white silk badge bearing the title.

But the officials soon learned of her mistake and rushed over to Violet while she was posing for photographers.

Miss Lenora Slaughter, the pageant's executive director, demanded the badge and told the blue-eyed blonde:

"You are not Miss Connecticut," she insisted. "I won the Miss America Pageant contest legally."

She refused to relinquish the badge, and Miss Slaughter shrugged and said she could keep it.

Tears Flow Freely

Violet stormed out of the pageant headquarters and said she "was so mad I couldn't cry."

At least not until she got outside, when tears flowed freely as photographers snapped away.

She promised she would picket the headquarters. She did in a hired rolling chair, on which hung anti-pageant signs. One read:

"Miss America Pageant unfair to the only legal Miss Connecticut."

After three hours in the sun, Violet keeled over in a faint. She

Gladstone Man Killed Near Ensign Monday

Joseph A. MacAuley, 74, Gladstone, retired Soo Line switchman, was killed Monday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Dr. Richard B. Gordon, 52, of Madison, Wis., on US-2 about two miles east of Ensign about 9:30.

The death of Mr. MacAuley was the 16th traffic fatality in Delta County this year and marred an otherwise excellent holiday weekend traffic record.

State police and sheriff department officers reported this morning that generally motorists in the area responded very well to the pleas for safe driving over the holiday weekend. Traffic was very heavy on nearly all highways.

Many Traffic Tickets

The state police issued more than 100 tickets, however with the assistance of National Guardsmen who aided in the traffic patrol duty over the weekend. The sheriff's department issued only two traffic tickets. Escanaba city police issued 28 traffic tickets for moving violations over the weekend.

Dr. Gordon told state police who investigated the traffic fatality that he did not see MacAuley because of fog and the blinding lights from oncoming vehicles.

Police Issue 28 Traffic Tickets

Twenty-eight motorists, including a driver who pleaded guilty to operating his car while intoxicated, were ticketed by Escanaba police over the Labor Day weekend for violations of the traffic laws.

Peter Willems, 45, of Green Bay, today pleaded guilty in Justice Henry Ranguette's court to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants and paid a fine of $50 and costs of $5. He was arrested last evening by a city police officer, off duty at the time, who observed Willems' erratic driving on US-2-41 coming from Gladstone.

Gerald O. Godfrey, 25, of 207 Delta Ave., Gladstone, was charged with speeding and reckless driving following his arrest at 15th Ave. N. and Washington at 3:10 a. m. Sunday.

The 26 other traffic tickets for moving violations were as follows: Charles G. Olson, 2520 Lake Shore Drive, defective head lights; Gilbert Stendahl, 1504 Stephenson Ave., defective tail light; Conrad Pratt, 802 Stephenson Ave., defective head light; Mrs. Fernand Chouinard, Gladstone Rte. 1, defective head light; Eugene Henderson, Wells, no lights, no operator's license; Maynard Morse, 514 2nd Ave. S., no Michigan license plate.

Harold A. Newmann, Bark River Rte. 1, defective brakes; Walter Parrish, Engles, Mich., disobeying stop sign, driving with license revoked; Edward W. Hurley, 815 S. 10th St., driving with expired operator's license; William Grondine, Hermansville, improper turn; Fred Pollak, Escanaba, speeding; William R. Elvin, Wells, disobeying traffic signal.

Robert M. Kolb, Chicago, speeding; Harold G. Krusic, Manistiquish, disobeying traffic signal; Joseph E. Friedgen Jr., 537 N. 18th St., speeding; Nancy L. Flath, Bark River Rte. 1, speeding; Mrs. Mary Burear, Blackwell Ave., Gladstone, disobeying stop sign; Henry Dennis, Kingsford, disobeying stop sign; Edward Robarge, Iron Mountain, disobeying stop sign.

Earl F. Sovey, 1608 Washington Ave., speeding; Raymond Beauchamp, Bark River Rte. 2, failure to yield right of way and no operator's license on person; James LaCrosse, 311 S. 15th St., speeding; Robert H. Cayemberg, Ensign, speeding; Donald J. Robert, Gladstone Rte. 1, speeding; Daniel E. Wellman, Bark River Rte. 1, speeding; Emil Richert, Sudbury, Ont., disobeying traffic signal.

HOLLAND (P)—Dr. Martin Niemöller, German church leader, will speak in Holland Thursday and Friday during the three day convocation conference of the Western Theological Seminary. Dr. Niemöller will discuss church activity behind the Iron Curtain.

MacAuley apparently was directly in the center of the traffic lane. MacAuley suffered a fractured skull and crushed chest. He was born in 1880 and began working as a brakeman for the Soo Line on Dec. 23, 1905. He transferred to the switching service in 1920 and retired Feb. 1, 1944.

The body was removed to the Kelley Funeral Home in Gladstone. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Child Falls From Car

The only other traffic accident reported in Delta County over the weekend did not involve a collision. Leona Mae Wright, 2½ year old daughter of Mrs. Melvin Wright, Superior Ave., Gladstone, sustained bruises on the forehead and left leg when she fell from a car driven by Henry Murray, of Spalding, Sunday on county road 523 near Cornell.

Two other accidents were reported in the area over the weekend, however, both occurring in Menominee County.

Two persons were hospitalized at St. Francis Hospital, Escanaba, with injuries received in a collision between auto driven by Mrs. Violet Mack, 40, Harris, and Michael Lelito, Detroit, on US-2-41, five miles east of Powers Sunday evening at 7:50.

Mrs. Mack received a collarbone injury and bruises on neck and hip. Mrs. Esther Klekamp, 30, Wilson, a passenger in the Mack car, sustained a fractured pelvis.

Auto Hits Trees

State police who investigated the accident said Mrs. Mack pulled off the pavement into the right shoulder to let another car pass and then swung into the path of the Lelito car. Lelito swerved in an effort to avoid a collision but his car struck the Mack car in the side.

Pauline Flath, 20, of 1710 Ludington St., Escanaba, suffered an injured left shoulder when an automobile that she was driving struck some trees near US-41 Sunday night at 10 about two miles south of Powers.

Miss Flath told state police that she reached into the backseat to extinguish a fire caused by a cigarette and as she did so, the car ran off the pavement and into a group of trees.

The car, owned by Otto Reinholdson, was extensively damaged.

Mrs. Whiting Dies Sunday At L'Anse

Mrs. J. W. Whiting, former resident of Escanaba, died Sunday afternoon at her home at L'Anse. Mrs. Whiting, the former Jessie McCauley, left Escanaba about 35 years ago.

Survivors include a brother, C. J. McCauley of Wells; and two sisters, Mrs. G. M. Stok and Mrs. Edward Jernstrom of Escanaba, who will attend the funeral services to be held at L'Anse at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday.

Burial will be at L'Anse.

Fred Erickson Wins Pram Sailing Races And Gessner Cup

Before rain forced a halt to sailing activities in the local yacht harbor Saturday afternoon, an Escanaba skipper had won the Green Bay pram championship. Erickson's representative in the races was Fred Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Erickson. Fred also sailed off with the Gessner Trophy in a contest for Escanaba sailors preceding the main event.

In the three heats held for the championship, Erickson raced against Darwin Pfister of Gladstone, and Richard Grota of Sturgeon Bay. Prams used in the races were Doodle and Yankee Jr., Escanaba; and Slow Motion, Gladstone. Each contestant sailed all three boats, a different boat for each heat. The final point standings were 8 3/4 for Escanaba, 5 for Sturgeon Bay, and 2 for Gladstone. According to the plan that the races will be held annually at the home port of the defending champion, the Escanaba Yacht Club will probably be the host club for the championship series in 1955.

Erickson's opponent in the finals for the Gessner Trophy yesterday was Dave Johnson. Finalists were the two sailors with either the highest number of points, or the highest point average for the 15-race series held for the 13-16 age group during the season.

Fourteen of the 7½ foot sail boats were in the "prame-nade" which opened the small boat carnival for the junior sailors. The Gladstone sailors participating included 6 boys (Harold Bjorkquist, Tim Bolger, Russell Kent, Darwin and Gary Pfister, and Jim Saurin), and eight girls (Margaret Clark, Barbara Hale, Ruth Hoffman, Ann Kinnie, Marcia and Mary Johnson, Peg Niedermair, and Cora Pepin). Police said that Turner reported two pump shotguns, one a 12 guage and the other a 16 guage, and a .32 caliber special rifle, and the cash are missing.

Orpheus To Begin Rehearsals Tonight For 16th Season

The Orpheus Choral Club of Delta County will meet tonight in the music room of the Junior High School at 7:15. The meeting will begin the 16th season of this distinguished vocal group.

Any junior or senior in high school or any adult who has the ability to read music or sing a harmony part is eligible for membership. Weekly attendance at the Tuesday night rehearsal is also required. Teachers who are newcomers to the area are especially welcome.

Mrs. M. H. Garrard who is well known throughout the Upper Peninsula for her work with the Orpheus Choral Club and also as a soloist with other choral groups will resume the directorship.

The famous Handel Oratorio "The Messiah," has been selected as the fall project of the mixed chorus of 65 voices. It will be presented in mid-December in Escanaba with outstanding soloists assisting the chorus.

Clean Children's Clothes For School

by Melton McGovern, graduate of National Institute of Dry Cleaning.

Well, here it is —another school year rolling around again!

So naturally that means that the children will begin making their daily trek to the classroom for the better part of the year.

You'll want them to look clean and bright, especially on the more important occasions and events.

So why not bring their clothes in for a good cleaning today?

Is there anything special you want done? A little mending? Alterations? Patches? Buttons missing? Zipper need replacing?

All this is part of putting the children's clothes in shape for the hard wear they'll get from now on. And yet you do want your children to look neater than they sometimes do around the house, don't you?

So-o-o when you bring their clothes in, if there's anything we can do to help you out, ask us. We'll be glad to help you over a busy week in every way we can.

And, whether it's the children's clothes or the grownups', remember that you'll always get the finest possible when you CALL US OR BRING IT TO NU WAY!

Thousands Go Back To School

It was back to school this morning for several thousand Escanaba school children.

Reports on enrollment at the various public and parochial grade and high schools were incomplete this morning and full reports will be made Wednesday, school officials said.

The new public elementary grade school now under construction will be ready for occupancy later in the school year, probably after the first semester.

The new Catholic Central High School was opened this morning with students from Escanaba, Gladstone, Rapid River, Bark River, Schafter and other nearby areas. Enrollment this morning was about 420, it was indicated. School buses are being run from Schafter, Bark River and Rapid River-Gladstone.

St. Patrick grade school added another class for the class term and now has classes one through seven. St. Thomas added a third grade, making a total of three grades now offered. However, the third grade of St. Thomas was transferred to an available class room in the St. Joseph school. St. Joseph and St. Anne each offered eight grades.

The public grade schools are Webster, Washington, Jefferson, Barr and Franklin, each with kindergarten through sixth grade classes. A sixth grade school, John A. Lemmer school, now under construction will also provide facilities for special education classes, now conducted at Franklin and Junior High School.

Enrollment figures at the Escanaba Junior High School and Escanaba Senior High School will be announced Wednesday.

Bark River Bowlers—The Bark River women's bowling meeting will be held at the Bark River Town Hall Thursday, Sept. 9, at 7:45 p. m. All interested bowlers are requested to attend.

Marriage Licenses—Application for marriage licenses have been made at the county clerk's office by Earl Reno, Wells and Betty Trotter, 1224 N. 22nd St., Ellsworth St. Cyr, Wells and Beverly Viaw, 1516 N. 16th St.

At Kiwanis Meeting—A sound motion picture depicting behind-the-scenes operations in airliner service was shown to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club today at their regular meeting. The film was shown by Dick Johnson of North Central Airlines, and the program chairman was Dr. F. C. Anderson.

Beaton Unable To Speak In Escanaba For Labor Day

The keynote address of the Labor Day picnic was cancelled yesterday when it was learned that Harold Beaton, who was scheduled to speak, had been hospitalized and was unable to come to Escanaba. State Representative Einar Erlandson and Delta County Prosecutor Nicholas P. Chapekis addressed informal remarks to the crowd. The picnic was held at Pioneer Trail Park following the Labor Day Parade at Escanaba.

College Courses At Stephenson

Two college courses will be offered at the Stephenson High School by the Northern Michigan College of Education. The first course will be "Conservation of Natural Resources 210" and will meet Friday, September 10th at 5:00 CST with Dr. Halverson as the instructor. The course will offer three semester hours of residence credit. All persons interested in the course should report for the class Friday.

The second course to be offered during the second semester 1955 will be "Child Psychology 203". Further information is available from the Office of the Superintendent of Schools in Stephenson or by communicating with Dr. Max Allen of Northern Michigan College of Education.

Since the king of clubs was on-side, South gathered in all the tricks, but, understandably, this accomplishment was no source of pleasure in view of the fact that the partnership had not even North muttered something to the effect that South had underbid a couple of tricks—but the fact of the matter was that North, and North alone, was the guilty party. People have been jailed for lesser crimes than North committed in this deal.

Taking first things first, North might well have opened with one spade, so that he could show his hearts without "reversing." That, however, would not have been important if he had shown a little consistency when the four-club call came around to him. Not only he but his partner had previously reversed, both thereby announcing strong hands, so it was utterly inconceivable to South—and North should have known it—that North would drop a four-club bid, short of game. Thus, in the only logical sense, that four-club bid was an absolute force, and North had no right to pass even if he wanted to. And finally, how he could want to pass with his particular holding

Dog Licenses All Sold Out

County Treasurer Ann S. Villeneuve reports that her entire stock of dog licenses has been sold out and that she has been forced to issue only the regular receipt until the new tags arrive and can be sent out.

"Before the law was so strictly enforced we sold about 300 a year," she said. "Now we have sold 2,328 and they are still coming at the rate of 50 a day," she added.

When the regular supply of licenses ran out, the Clerk had some old licenses restamped with this year's date. These too were soon sold and a local jeweler made more from sheet metal. Now all of these are gone and an order has been placed with a machine company to produce a large quantity large enough to meet the demand. These will be ready this week and sent out to those who did not get a tag when they paid their fee.

Stricter enforcement began when the Township Supervisors hired a dog warden to enforce the state dog laws which have been on the law books since 1916. Orrie Switzer, Gladstone, was appointed by the supervisors to assist the sheriff's department, which was not staffed to handle the dog problem.

Switzer reports that much of the difficulty results from the practice of dumping unwanted dogs in the country by city residents. He said that these dogs are left to run wild and molest cattle and poultry. The warden also warns that just because a dog is licensed it does not mean that the animal may run loose. He reminds dog owners that the law states that a dog must be under the reasonable control of the owner during daylight hours and tied up at night.

Escanaba Wet Over Weekend

Escanaba was the wettest spot in the Upper Peninsula over the long Labor Day weekend, having absorbed .44 inches of rain. The only comparable spot was the Soo which had .35. Temperatures were mild, ranging from 69 on Monday to 57 during the night. Cool dry air covering the area will bring the temperature down to 48 tonight, Weatherman Decker reports. He predicts fair skies and 70 degree readings for today and Wednesday.

The list of places in the Eastern two-thirds of the U. S. which had record high temperatures Monday includes "pots at which all time heat records have been shattered. Many others registered the highest temperatures experienced for so late in the season. Lansing, Muskegon, and Grand Rapids were just three of the Michigan cities with record September readings. Green Bay, which recorded 91 during the day, dropped to 55 last night.

The hurricane "Edna" was about 100 miles northwest of Turks Island this morning and moving west northwest at a speed of 8-10 miles an hour. Winds from 60-70 miles an hour were recorded and gales extended from 150-200 miles from the center of the storm. The storm will reach hurricane force today and the Bahama Islands have been alerted to take all precautions.

Vows Spoken By Elaine Lutri, Patrick Moran

STEPHENSON—The Church of the Precious Blood, Stephenson, was the setting Saturday, Sept. 4, at 9 a. m. for the wedding of Miss Elaine Mary Lutri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lutri Jr. of Stephenson and Patrick Ray Moran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Moran of Carney.

The Rev. Glen E. Sanford officiated at the double ring rites and was celebrant of the solemn nuptial high mass. The Rev. Gino Ferraro, pastor of St. Bruno's Church, Nadeau, was deacon and the Rev. John J. Leckman, pastor of St. Frederick's Church of Daggett, served as sub-deacon.

White Shantung
 The mass was sung by the senior choir of the church accompanied by Mrs. Clement Steinbrecher, organist, and directed by Mrs. Phillip Carroll. Mrs. Frank Salp sang "Ave Maria."

Bouquets of pale pink and white gladiolus and tall lighted candles decorated the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk shantung designed with molded basque bodice and floor-length skirt. Seed pearls and sequins accented the scoop neckline and brief sleeves edged with scallops. The full-gathered skirt was worn over a hoop and satin foundation. A snug-fitting shell silk cap trimmed with seed pearls held her fingertip veil of imported French silk illusion. Long mitts finished with a scalloped edge covered her arms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lemon foliage.

In Shrimp Shade
 Miss Lyola Foldy of Plymouth, a cousin of the bride, was honor maid. Miss Phyllis Grundstrom and Mrs. Richard Dziedzic both of Chicago were bridesmaids. The attendants' dresses of shrimp-colored iridescent crystallette were styled with strapless draped bodices, matching shrug jackets and waltz-length skirts. Their picture hats formed of matching crystallette had open crowns outlined with matching velvet flowers and pearls. A pleated bow trimmed the back. Summer jewelry complemented their costumes.

The honor attendant carried a cascade bouquet of white fugi chrysanthemums and yellow daisy pompons. The aides' bouquets were formed of white fugi mums. Lawrence Lutri, brother of the bride, was best man and Richard Turini of Vulcan, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Donald King of Big Rapids, served as attendants. James Turini and Jack Kovach ushered.

The bride's mother wore a three-piece costume of charcoal gray with red and black accessories complemented with a corsage of red and white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a black and white street-length dress with red accessories and a carnation corsage.

Dinner And Reception
 The wedding breakfast was served to the bridal party and family members after the ceremony in the parish hall. The bridal couple was honored at a dinner for 500 guests from 5 to 7:30 p. m. also held in the parish hall. They were feted at a reception from 8 to 11 p. m. in the home of the bride's parents and at a dance in the Belmonttown Hall.

After a honeymoon in Northern Michigan and Canada the young couple will reside in Powers. They are both graduates of Stephenson High School and attended Western Michigan College, Kalamazoo. The bride will be employed as secretary at the Carney school. The bridegroom is employed by the Harnischfeger Corporation in Escanaba.

Attending from out-of-town were relatives and friends from Escanaba, Gladstone, Vulcan, Detroit, Royal Oak, Big Rapids, Chicago, Milwaukee, Plymouth and Green Bay.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

The most sensationally successful game in the past quarter of a century, as most of my readers know, is Scrabble, that remarkable board game based upon a combination of acrostics and crossword puzzles which has been the wonder of the toy industry for the past year and a half.

Curious to know how its popularity is holding up, because it seemed impossible for the game to sustain the fabulous rate of sales established in 1953 when nearly 750,000 sets were sold in about eight months time, I called on James Brunot, head of the Scrabble enterprise.

Brunot is a quiet, soft-spoken retired social worker who still seems a bit startled by the success which has been so suddenly and overwhelmingly thrust upon him. He had been making Scrabble, a few sets at a time, in his home workshop in a small Connecticut town for ten or 15 years before the game caught on in a big way. Mostly he made the games for personal friends and never expected to sell more than 100 or so a year.

Suddenly, just about two years ago, the rate of sales began to climb rapidly and by mid-1953 he had to license two of the nation's largest game makers to produce Scrabble and a variation called Skipacross. But even their combined production of over a million games fell far short of meeting the demand.

How are things shaping up this year? Has the game lost any of its popularity? Modestly, Mr. Brunot shrugs: "Last week alone 60,000 sets were shipped and we still haven't caught up with the demand. The total for the year will be well over 2,500,000 games sold. My publishers, Grosset & Dunlap, have sold over 300,000 books about the game in less than a year and are publishing two more books about it this fall. Both the game makers and the book publishers report no slackening off in sales."

This month Scrabble makes its debut in Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand. Licenses have been arranged for Spanish, French and Italian versions, and there has even appeared an unauthorized adaptation called "Mish-Mosh" playable in either Hebrew or Yiddish. Truly a fabulous success story of an American phenomenon—Scrabble.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Joan Carr attended a concert at Carnegie Hall that ended in a spontaneous ovation for the conductor. Applauding more madly than anybody else were a couple of uniformed ushers. Miss Carr had just whispered to her partner, "Those boys appreciate music more than all the frauds who pay seven dollars a ticket," when she heard one usher say happily, "If we can keep this applause going five minutes more, we'll collect overtime!"

Mr. Manlove was reading the evening paper to his wife. "It says here," he reported, "that Nick Wredin, the famous climber, slipped over a Rocky Mountain precipice yesterday while reaching for some wild flowers. As he fell, he gathered momentum—" "Oh, that poor, enthusiastic Mr. Wredin!" interrupted Mrs. Manlove.

"Imagine his picking flowers even as he fell!"

The Doctor Says ... Outlook for Victims Of Diabetes Is Much Brighter

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Not so many years ago almost all victims of severe diabetes either died of the disease or from complications which at that time could not be prevented. Today, thanks to the discovery of insulin and better knowledge of how to treat the disease, the outlook is much better.

But there are still problems: there are believed to be nearly a million people with diabetes who do not know they have it and therefore are not receiving the benefits of modern treatment, and human nature being what it is, there are far too many diabetic patients who do not follow directions and are therefore taking chances with their lives.

DIABETES IS a curious disease. Heredity and excess fat play a part in its development but the exact cause still remains to be discovered. The place where the trouble originates is in the pancreas, which is a small gland lying in the upper portion of the abdomen. This gland, among other functions, normally produces a hormone which is emptied into the blood and is known as insulin.

Insulin is necessary to enable the tissues to burn and use sugar; if it is absent or deficient in quantity some of the sugar will spill over into the urine. The body thus does not get enough nourishment and wasting may occur if it goes too long unchecked.

THE PRINCIPLE AIM of the attack on diabetes is to improve the use of the sugar and prevent its wastage through the urine. One method of doing this is by eating foods which do not contain much starches or sugars. In mild cases this may be enough.

It should be mentioned too that the severity of the diabetes may change from time to time so that it is necessary to alter the treatment. Also, a diet which is satisfactory at one time may have to be changed later.

ONE CORRESPONDENT asks whether one can say "once a diabetic, always a diabetic." It is probably safe to answer this with a "yes," but there are some who have sugar in the urine who are not diabetic, and in older people in particular diabetes may never be severe. If the condition is really diabetes, however, it will have to be watched.

Another recently wrote inquiring whether it might not be possible to take insulin some other way than by needle. To this the answer so far is "no," though this may come some day. But even for those who do not like the needle this is better than dying.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Are the parents of white children in the north prepared to accept an influx of Negro teachers to take over many of the classrooms hitherto occupied by white teachers?

This is the new problem which the American people face now that the full meaning of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States has undergone further study. For it is likely that many of the Negro teachers who have been employed in segregated schools in the south will be displaced when integrated schools, with both whites and Negroes, are fully established.

There are, according to the latest U. S. census figures 76,390 Negro teachers employed in the 17 southern and border states and the District of Columbia, as compared with 310,319 white teachers. This is one Negro out of each five teachers.

In the 31 so-called non-segregated states, there are only 10,248 Negro teachers, as compared with 722,487 white teachers. This is a ratio of one Negro teacher out of each 73 teachers.

Careful reading of the Supreme Court decision would seem to indicate that any such ratio of employment in the north as between white and Negro teachers could be held to be discrimination. Inasmuch as the Supreme Court decision says, in effect, that the federal government can intervene in the field of education and pass judgment on what kind of education pupils are receiving, it may be inferred that examination of the quality of teaching has also come within the federal power.

EFFECT OF SEGREGATION

The Supreme Court said:

"There are findings below that the Negro and white schools involved have been equalized, or are being equalized, with respect to buildings, curricula, qualifications and salaries of teachers, and other 'tangible' factors. Our decision, therefore, cannot turn on merely a comparison of these tangible factors in the Negro and white schools involved in each of the cases. We must look instead to the effect of segregation itself on public education."

"We come then to the question presented: Does segregation of children in public schools solely on the basis of race, even though the physical facilities and other 'tangible' factors may be equal, deprive the children of the minority group of equal educational opportunities? We believe that it does."

With such a direct intervention into the subject of what constitutes a good education, the Supreme Court undoubtedly has decreed that any palpable inequality in the selection of the number of Negro teachers as compared to whites would be considered as discrimination if it can be proved that Negro teachers who are well qualified to teach are not being given jobs they deserve.

It will be asked, for instance, why, as the latest census figures show, only three Negro teachers were qualified in Maine whereas 7,483 white teachers were employed. Similarly, Montana has only two Negro teachers and 5,601 white teachers.

Even Massachusetts, which has prided itself on its historic attitude toward the Negro, employs only 110 Negroes out of a total of 36,553 teachers. Indiana, with a large Negro population, has only 680 Negro teachers out of 27,290. California has only 923 Negro teachers and 73,525 white teachers. Illinois, another state with a large Negro population, has only 1,961 Negro teachers, while it employs 55,712 white teachers.

DISCRIMINATION?

The same small ratio of Negro teachers prevails in other northern states. New York state has only 1,693 Negro teachers, as compared with 101,387 white teachers. Ohio has 1,051 Negro teachers and 50,895 white teachers. New Jersey has only 759 Negro teachers and 34,118 white teachers.

Has there been discrimination in the north? Plainly congressional committees—now that federal power over education is involved—would have authority to summon witnesses and take testimony and find out what has been happening in the process of selecting or banning Negro teachers.

The south and the border states, which have 76,390 Negro teachers, are employing seven Negroes to every one of the teaching rolls of all the 31 so-called non-segregated northern states put together.

If the south goes in for integration and many Negro teachers lose their jobs, as seems inevitable, will the northern states accept them and put more and more Negro teachers in classrooms where white children predominate? That's the new question, and it will furnish the acid test of sincerity in the north which has always assumed that the south was the only section where discrimination was taking place in the field of education.

UNEMPLOYMENT PEAKS during two postwar dips in business are compared in chart above. Solid line indicates how unemployment rose during 1948, 1949 and 1950. Dotted lines show situation last year and so far this year. Period between is not comparable since it represents the Korean war spurt. Figures are from monthly computation of unemployment by Bureau of Labor Statistics.

By JOHN W. LOVE

NEA Special Correspondent CLEVELAND (NEA) — Labor Day speeches were more sober than they were a year ago. They reflected the start of a business recession about last Labor Day, a rise in unemployment—and the approaching Congressional campaign.

With the recession getting into politics and the year two-thirds gone, this is a good time to look back over what we've come through—and at what may be ahead.

The slump has now lasted almost exactly a year. There are numerous reasons for believing it has reached its bottom. But nobody can tell how many months it will be before production and trade are restored to their old levels of midsummer 1953. If they take as long as in the equally serious recession of 1948-50, it will be another year before recovery is complete.

Fluctuations in business and industry always involve a great deal more than those in employment alone, but the fall and rise in numbers of jobs are the changes which get the most attention in slack times.

Then the figures for the jobless behaved surprisingly like those of the last recession, the one which began late in 1948.

This February, on the Government's figures, the unemployment total reached a peak of more than 3,700,000 persons. It slid off afterward, by about 400,000 persons, and has held a lower level from that time to July, the last month for which we have the returns.

It is apparent from this and other sources that of each 100 men and women who held jobs a year ago, about three lost them. The loss was much greater in manufacturing. Unfortunately, large numbers of those who were laid off last fall and winter have used up their unemployment compensation.

Six years ago the rise of unemployment was about as fast as this time. It also hit a temporary peak in February. A year later, in 1950, the jobless were estimated at 4,700,000. This was three months after a substantial upturn of business volume. The outbreak in Korea the following summer made it certain that demand for workers would remain high until that war was over.

Layoffs ordinarily don't commence in industry until after the output has fallen off. Employers tend to cut working hours before they let men out. The reverse occurs in the revivals. Employers lengthen the hours before they add new men. Probably the same will occur again. Not until the working weeks begins to lengthen can we look for unemployment to go down much more.

For six months, up through July, the factory week remained about 39½ hours, a shrinkage of about an hour over last summer. The downward trend helped to explain some of the changes in consumers' purchases.

They continued to buy for daily consumption about as much goods as before, but they cut down on merchandise on time payments, such as home appliances. The loss of overtime premiums—the average man had been working half an hour extra—was itself enough to affect this business noticeably.

Consumer credit in general, including installment payments, diminished the first of this year. Whatever may be said of the wisdom of the public going deeper into debt, business declines when people start paying off the debt. Recently this type of buying started upward again and those who were watching it felt better.

The greatest losses in factory jobs this year were in textile, automobiles and machinery plants, and some miscellaneous metal fabricators.

Employment was steadiest in public utilities, food products and trade. The aircraft industry actually employs more men than a year ago—for reasons to be seen in the defense budget.

The food industries are the most widely distributed over the country, and that is partly why the western and some southern states have felt the recession much less than the manufacturing districts in the Northeast.

Trade centers like the county seats, noticed some loss of business but little loss of jobs.

Throughout this recession the hourly pay of those who remain employed has been rising slowly, while the hours worked diminished. But the rise in hourly pay disturbs the theory that the way to put an end to recession is to raise the pay.

The same things occurred in the last recession, in 1948-50—wages rose by the hour while business was falling off.

Those economists who have been looking closest at employment wonder whether all industries can be expected to take back the workers they had in 1953.

Sick spots appear in the pattern. Coal mining is sour. Farm machinery waits for farmers' incomes to rise substantially, the railroads are well equipped, the many northern and some of the southern textile manufacturers are discouraged.

For these reasons the amount of unemployment is likely to be a long time going down to the levels of a little over a million which prevailed last year. New industries will have to take up some of the slack of the old. Many a worker will have to move. The outlook for the remainder of the year is for stability on both sides of the employment picture. Barring that, is a new war scare and a sudden upping of defense orders.

FEWER AND BIGGER — The grass is growing higher in the pathways leading to the front doors of an increasing number of little one-room schoolhouses in America—and the big yellow school buses are seen in greater numbers on the highways.

The trend is toward consolidated schools, bigger and better equipped for their educational function, and fewer of those "little red schoolhouses" that once dotted the American countryside. There remains 43,000 one-room schools (some still red), but the number is shrinking at the rate of 10 a day, reports the National Geographic Society.

The passing of the one-room school may cause a nostalgic sigh among the older generation, but progress in economics, road building and motor transportation combine to make consolidation of school districts inevitable.

Larger buildings offer better facilities at lower cost per pupil; the hiring of more and better trained teachers is made possible by consolidation; and educators believe advantages of consolidation outweigh the good points of the "little red" schools.

Modern steel, stone and glass structures, each housing hundreds of pupils and 10 or more teachers are replacing the elementary classrooms where four or more grades studied and recited side by side at the same time.

IN THE BEGINNING—The little one-room school house has served Americans very well. In fact, it continues to serve in many cities as well as rural communities.

Dorchester, Mass., probably established the first "free" school in the New World in 1639, and appropriated 20 pounds from public funds for teacher hire, reports the National Geographic Society. The Pilgrim children earlier had attended classes outdoors or in private homes, with volunteer teachers.

The one-room school house, red, white or the weathered color of hand hewn logs, molded the early thinking of millions of children.

It was frequently a stern teacher, but in later life generations of Americans built nostalgic memories of their youth around the harsh clang of the recess bell or the afternoon drone of reciting pupils or the prank that spelled a half-hour stay after school.

Even the rod, often a hickory switch, became a symbol of happy, unspoiled days.

AMERICAN TRADITION — The one-room school has become a symbol of America's heritage of freedom from thought-control and passionate devotion to the ideal of self-government. He owns his schools, elects those who make educational policy, and recognizes them as local institutions.

It was in a little one-room school at Knob Creek in his native Hardin County, Kentucky, that Abraham Lincoln "learned to read and write, and cipher to the rule of three."

Redstone school in Sterling, Mass., was preserved by the late Henry Ford in his "Longfellow's Wayside Inn" because it was there that Mary Sawyer's little lamb followed her to school one day and inspired the poem "Mary Had a Little Lamb." The restored classroom now serves 16 grammar-school children.

And at Woodstock, Conn., a 206-year old school has been preserved as a permanent shrine, complete with lunch pails, water bucket and a high stool and dunce cap in a corner, with a slippery elm switch nearby.

ALL FOR THE BEST—Going, going is the one-room school. Soon they will all be gone.

And gone with them will be the unsanitary outhouse, the communal water pail and dipper, the cold and drafty room with its big heating stove that served only to accentuate discomfort.

Today in Michigan even the smallest school is required to meet state standards of sanitation and safety that makes it much better than those of an earlier day. Yet by the very necessity of the times the one-room school is doomed.

The big yellow school bus is pushing the little red school house out of the picture.

Gorey glowered at Kinnaird, but uncertain of his ground, decided to appeal to a higher authority. He left the courthouse to ask Jacob Fugger. But that worthy had already been informed of what had happened and was coming toward the courthouse.

He encountered Kinnaird coming out. "You can't arrest Hong Kong Smith," he cried.

"Maybe I can't," Kinnaird, grimly, "but I did. I had to crack him over the head."

Fugger cried out in horror. "There'll be trouble over this."

"For Smith. When he sobers up I'm taking him before the judge."

Fugger brightened for an instant, but then looked suspiciously at Kinnaird.

"What judge?"

"The only judge in the county—Judge Kraft!"

Fugger winced. "Kinnaird, I'll give you 10 minutes to cool off. Then I'll be back."

"Better come with a gun," warned Kinnaird.

Fugger whirled away. He went straight to McCoy's Saloon. McCoy was bitter about Smith. "He took a shot at me."

"He didn't hit you?"

"It wasn't his fault that he didn't. He put a bullet through the bank window, among other things."

Fugger grimaced. "We've got to overlook what he's done. We—we need him and his business."

"I suppose we do, but how far can we let a man go?"

Fugger suddenly bared his teeth. "I'm not going to argue with you, McCoy." He looked around.

"Where's Eric Stratmeyer?"

McCoy looked toward a room at the rear. "Sleeping."

"Wake him up."

McCoy hesitated but went toward the office at the rear. He found Stratmeyer awake. "What's all the racket about?" the faro dealer asked.

"Fugger wants to talk to you."

Stratmeyer followed McCoy into the saloon.

"You," said Fugger, "I want you to go down to the jail and get Hong Kong Smith out."

Stratmeyer fixed Fugger with a cold look. "I haven't had much experience breaking people out of jail."

"Now, don't you go making trouble," Fugger complained. "I've had enough. I brought you here to town."

"Let's get things straight," Stratmeyer said. "You sent for me to do one particular job—get rid of a man named Bailey. He's skipped town. Maybe I scared him out, maybe I didn't."

"I'm not worried about that now."

"All right, you've got another job? You'll pay me $1,000?"

Fugger swallowed hard. "You drive a hard bargain."

"They tell me you do, too," retorted Stratmeyer. "You want me to gun the sheriff?"

Fugger hesitated. "I'll let you know later."

"You do that, Mr. Fugger. In the meantime, would you mind sending over the $1,000 you already owe me?"

Stratmeyer smiled, a cold smile that sent a chill running through Fugger. He nodded and virtually ran out of the saloon.

On the street he encountered Manny Harpending and three or four Texas men. "Harpending," Fugger called. "If you're looking for your boss, he's in jail."

"Who—who had the nerve to do that?"

"The sheriff. I asked him to turn Smith loose, but he said no Texas men could take Smith away from him."

"We'll see about that!" cried one of the Texans.

Inside of 20 minutes, a score or more of Texas men marched on the jail. Kinnaird, pale but determined, met them at the door.

"Don't do anything foolish, men!"

"We're gonna take your jail apart if you don't turn old Hong Kong loose in 30 seconds," shouted one of the men.

Kinnaird drew his gun. He was ready to make an issue of it and then Marshal Gorey appeared in the doorway behind him. Kinnaird, hearing his step, started to turn and a Texas man close by sprang upon Kinnaird and smashed him on the head with his gun.

A roar went up and the Texans charged the jail, trampling and kicking Kinnaird as they swarmed over him. Gorey made no resistance and inside of a minute, Hong Kong Smith, only half-conscious, was brought out.

The mob paid no attention to Kinnaird, but when they left the jail, Kinnaird picked himself up, bleeding and bruised.

Tancred rode steadily through the night, until nearly dawn, when he staked out his horse on the prairie. Using his carpetbag for a pillow, he stretched out to sleep on the buffalo grass.

Hours later he awakened and was soon in the saddle. He rode steadily all that day to the east and north and the following morning cut the stage trail. He followed till late afternoon, when he crossed a shallow stream and sighted the stage station at Turkey Crossing. He asked the agent for something to eat.

The supper was plain, but substantial, and Tancred who had not eaten for two days was grateful. When he had finished he walked outside and, after a moment, found himself heading for the little mound of earth back of the station, where Laura Vesser's father was buried.

XXXII

Kinnaird, a bandage about his head and showing several cuts and bruises on his face, stood outside Fugger's Store as Laura Vesser came out a minute or two after 12.

She exclaimed when she saw his face. "You're hurt!"

Kinnaird made a gesture of dismissal. "I was a hero this morning . . . almost." He took her arm. "I'll buy your lunch."

She flashed him a smile. "I've only a half hour."

"Long enough," He steered her toward the Texas Saloon, but as they got to the door, Laura pulled back. "Couldn't we eat at the Bon Ton?"

"There's a—a friend here, wants to talk to you."

Dubiously, Laura allowed herself to be led into the Texas Saloon.

Lily Leeds was standing in the door of her office. She backed in. "How are you, Miss Vesser? I'm Lily Leeds."

A table had been set up inside the office, with chairs for three. Food was already on the table. Kinnaird closed the door.

"Sit down," said Lily, "We'll eat while we talk."

Kinnaird pulled out a chair and Laura sat down. Lily and Kinnaird also seated themselves and began to eat, but Laura fidgeted with her food. She looked up suddenly and found Lily's eyes on her.

"I wanted to meet you," declared Lily. "I've heard so much of you from Wes that I wanted to see what you were like."

Laura looked at Lily in astonishment. "Wes talked to you . . . about me?"

"Not exactly. He doesn't talk much—at least not to me. But he came in here before he left and told me he was going. I knew it was because of you."

Laura's eyes clouded. "Why should he leave town because of me?"

"Because he's in love with you," Laura's hands twitched suddenly.

ANOTHER AUTO EXPERT GOES ALL OUT FOR MERCURY

"In roadability we rate this car far ahead of any other in its class"

JOE WHERRY—AUTO AGE

"Power packed and with an excellent (half-joint) suspension system adapted from last year's surprising Lincoln, the 1954 Mercury is likely to show car buyers in the medium price class something new in driving pleasure. The new Merc is a spirited automobile."

And this auto expert is not alone in his praise. In report after report in the automotive press, Mercury has been getting, and continues to get, rave reviews. It's a car to reckon with if you're out to get the most for your money.

6 MORE REASONS WHY MERCURY IS THE HOTTEST CAR IN RECENT YEARS

1. You get an entirely new 161-horsepower overhead valve V-8—power that's smoother, quieter, more responsive.
2. You get stay-in-style beauty—a clean, fresh, out-of-the-future design that helps protect your investment.
3. You are offered a complete line of power features: optional power steering, power brakes, a 4-way power seat, and power window lifts.
4. A unique 4-barrel carburetor operates on 2 barrels for thrifter normal driving and switches "vacuumatically" to 4 barrels for safer passing and hill climbing.
5. You can have no-shift driving at its smoothest, proven best—optional Merc-O-Matic Drive.
6. You get a car with high resale value. According to authoritative reports, Mercury leads its field for top resale value.

ly and she knocked over her cup of coffee. In the confusion of clearing up, she recovered herself. But if she thought Lily would be distracted by the incident, she was mistaken.

Lily said quietly, "You see, Laura, I offered to go with him, but he turned me down."

And then Laura Vesser felt the coldness that she had not known she possessed. She drew herself up stiffly.

"I don't think I care to discuss the particular subject," she told Lily.

A look of grudging admiration came over Lee Kinnaird's face. But Lily's eyes narrowed. "Where has Wes Tancred gone to?" she demanded.

"Didn't he tell you where he was going?" Laura asked.

"No, he didn't."

Laura Vesser shook her head. "I'm sure I don't know. He didn't tell me either."

Laura pushed back her chair. "I've got to get back to work."

"Just a moment," exclaimed Lily. "That fine employer of yours has been accusing Wes Tancred of killing the mayor and first thing you know he'll be sending out a warrant for his arrest."

"Not through me," said Kinnaird.

"He doesn't have to go through you, you know that as well as I. I want to warn Wes."

"I've got to go," said Laura firmly. She started for the door.

Kinnaird grinned at the furious Lily as Laura went out. "You told me you just wanted to meet her. And then it turned out to be a cat fight. I don't aim to be a referee."

"She's in love with him," Kinnaird sobered. "But he's run out on her."

"No, he hasn't. She knows where he is. She's going to meet him later."

"Don't keep your fingers crossed. She can't see you, Lee. Not as long as there's Tancred."

The stagecoach swirled up before the Turkey Crossing station in a cloud of dust and the middle-aged station attendant began unhitching the horses.

Laura Vesser climbed down from the stage.

Tancred came up, leading the fresh horses. He saw Laura, but did not speak to her. For a moment or two Tancred and the agent were busy hitching up the fresh team. The stage driver went around to the boot and took out a valise.

"Here you are, Miss!"

He climbed back on his perch, waited until Tancred hitched up the last trace. Then he shouted, "Hiyah!"

The horses sprang forward and the coach started off. Then the agent turned to Laura. "No 'commodations here for people'."

"I know," she said, "but my name is Laura Vesser and I'd hoped you could put me up until the next stage."

The agent gave a start and his eyes darted in the direction of the grave behind the station. He said in a sympathetic tone, "I think we might manage, ma'am."

Laura walked around the stage station, back to her father's grave. When she returned, the stage was several miles away and Tancred had already rubbed down and fed the tired horses.

He said, "Did you know I was here?"

"How could I know? You left Sage City without telling — anyone—where you were going."

"You've left—for good?"

"I'm going back east. I just stopped off here to . . ." her eyes went to the mound behind the stage station.

State Winds Up Year In Surplus

LANSING (AP)—For the first time in five years, Michigan's general fund has wound up a fiscal year with a surplus.

State Controller John W. Lederle reported to Gov. Williams today that final accounting for the fiscal year ending last June 30 showed a surplus of $3,685,000.

The last surplus in the general fund—before the sales tax diversion began to leech away state revenues—was on June 30, 1949, and totaled more than 24 million dollars.

The new surplus was larger than expected. A favorable balance of about one million dollars had been expected.

The governor noted that "we have wiped out the state's 65 million dollar deficit in a two-year period. At the close of the 1952-53 fiscal year on June 30, 1953, we had a deficit of $31,300,000."

The deficit had promised to rise to nearly 95 million dollars when the 1953 Legislature advanced the payment date of the corporation franchise tax and enacted the new business receipts tax.

Lederle said the general fund revenues during the past fiscal year were $579,301,734 and expenditures were $541,206,381. Recognition also was given to an increase in reserves for obligations not actually met yet.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was slightly higher on balance today in the early afternoon with the aircrafts and steels well out in front and the railroads lagging.

Gains extended to between one and two points at the best while losses seldom got as far as a point.

Trading hit a pace around two million shares for the day. Friday's was a light 1,630,000 shares.

Higher with the steels and aircrafts were motors, rubbers, coppers, distillers, and electrical equipments. In the depressed class were the railroads, oils, and chemicals.

Expedition Starts Study Of Big Labrador Crater

WASHINGTON—American and Canadian experts, applying science's latest techniques, have started an on-the-spot inquiry to find out if a small Labrador lake is one of Earth's few meteorite craters.

As a clue, they seek telltale deposits of nickel in the vicinity. If a meteorite exploded, it may have sprayed the surrounding boulder-strewn terrain with nickel particles that affect nearby plant and animal life. Nickel has often been found in meteorites.

The investigation is being carried on by an expedition sponsored by the National Geographic Society and Toronto's Royal Ontario Museum of Geology and Mineralogy, assisted by the United States Air Force.

The circular, apple-green lake lies some 40 miles west of Hebron, an Eskimo mission. Its green water, contrasting with the other deep blue lakes in the region, led to its discovery during World War II by Colonel Arthur F. Merewether, of the United States Air Forces. Last summer it was rediscovered by Dr. Victor Ben Meen, geologist director of the Ontario museum.

Mystery still surrounds formation of the fifteen known meteorite indentations on the earth's crust. Much information has been gleaned already, but gaps still linger in man's knowledge of this phenomenon.

The current party pitched camp near the crater—a 14 by 16 foot "office-cooktent" bolstered by a wooden frame to withstand buffeting winds; and five smaller tents, all sitting on wooden floors. Two men sleep in each of four tents. A fifth tent shelters plant-drying frames for botanical study.

The expedition's first field operation provided a grid of survey stations centered on the crater to plot the recording of various data. Later the vicinity will be surveyed more carefully in an effort to discover indications of meteorite impact. Geologists will scrutinize the area for miles around.

Two Canadian scientists have set out to map the crater's diameter, depth, contour of bottom and height of rim. These measurements will be compared to the dimensions of near-by lakes. Plant and animal life is also being noted.

Magnetic characteristics of the region are being checked. Any variations in location and amount may prove significant. Modern devices as well as the eyes of all the party's members are searching for evidence of meteoritic materials.

Geologists also plan to relate the estimated age of the crater to the last ice age.

Special attention has been focused on the lake's color. Dr. Meen believes the apple-green tint probably results from silt washed in from glacial sediments. However, the possibility that nickel or algae color the lake is not being overlooked. Chemical and botanical tests will match the water with that of other lakes.

If it is established that a crashing meteorite dug the crater, the scientists will try to determine the missile's exact direction on impact. The answer may help decide whether the crater was gouged by a fragment of the same meteorite that created Chubb Crater, 450 miles northwest.

Army Officer Accused Of Aiding Reds Gets Psychiatric Checkup

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (P)—Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, 46-year-old career Army officer accused of collaborating with the Communists, will be examined over the Labor Day week end by a psychiatrist from his home town of Racine, Wis.

Fleming's trial before an 11-officer general court-martial was recessed until Wednesday after five days of testimony. The officer—a prisoner of war in Korea 34 months—faces a maximum sentence of life imprisonment, dismissal from service and loss of all pay if convicted. He has denied the Army charges.

Before adjourning Friday, the court gave defense attorneys permission to hire Dr. Glenn Bacon of Racine at $50 a day to make the psychiatric examination. The defense lawyers had said they wanted Bacon to try to find the answers to these hypothetical questions:

What are the effects on a person who has been in a state of malnutrition over a long period? What are the effects on his brain? What effect would this have, along "fear of death," on the possible weakening of a person's will to resist?

Good Teachers Must Be Shockproof, Says Dr. Hatch Of MSC

OMAHA (P)—Good teachers, said Dr. Raymond Hatch of Michigan State College, must be "shockproof."

To illustrate, he told this story: A first grade pupil walked into the classroom and reported "me sleep with daddy."

"No, no," teacher corrected. "I sleep with daddy."

"Maybe so," replied the youngster. "But that must have been after I went to sleep."

The Michigan State Department of Guidance and Counselor Training head ended his talk to Omaha teachers with a chuckling "a good sense of humor helps."

Detroit Man Accused Of Killing Daughter

DETROIT (P)—Albert Addrow, 38-year-old factory worker, was held for investigation today in the pistol-killing of his 15-year-old daughter Friday night.

Addrow said the daughter, Barbara, shot herself, but her half-sister, Lorine Williams, 18, told police Addrow shot the girl following an argument with his wife, Mary.

Balloons Still Break Sky Frontiers Of Man

WASHINGTON—Balloons carrying science's instruments to the upper edge of the stratosphere foreshadow the day man himself will make a 100,000-foot ascent.

A rocket-powered plane probably will take the first human past that altitude. Animals encased in research rockets already have soared far higher. Yet over the years it has been by balloon that man has edged steadily upward, and by balloons he still probes the way ahead, says the National Geographic Society.

The all-time altitude record for balloons stands now at 136,000 feet, almost 26 miles. It was set October 4, 1949, over Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, by a five-balloon hitch carrying 11½ pounds of instruments in a cosmic ray research program sponsored by the National Geographic Society and the Bartol Research Foundation of the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia.

Sratosphere Explorers

Twenty years ago this spring the Society and the U. S. Army Air Corps began an historic series of manned balloon flights into the stratosphere that set another record.

On July 28, 1934, the Explorer I, a 3,000,000-cubic-foot hydrogen bag, rose to 60,613 feet over the Black Hills of South Dakota. It carried Major William E. Kepner, Captain Orvil A. Anderson, and the late Captain Albert W. Stevens.

At 11½ miles above sea level, the balloon tore across the bottom, plunging earthward. The three air-men rode it down to within half a mile of the ground. They parachuted to safety just as the giant gas bag exploded.

By the following summer a second balloon was ready. Explorer II, with a capacity of 3,700,000 cubic feet, was the largest free balloon ever built. It used helium in place of hydrogen. On November 11, 1935, it carried Anderson and Stevens to a height of 72,395 feet, 13.71 miles, a world altitude mark still recognized.

Not until 1951 did any man go higher. Then a United States Navy Skyrocket plane climbed 79,000 feet. Two years later, on August 21, 1953, a second Skyrocket soared to 83,235 feet, piloted by Lt. Col. Marion E. Carl of the U. S. Marine Corps.

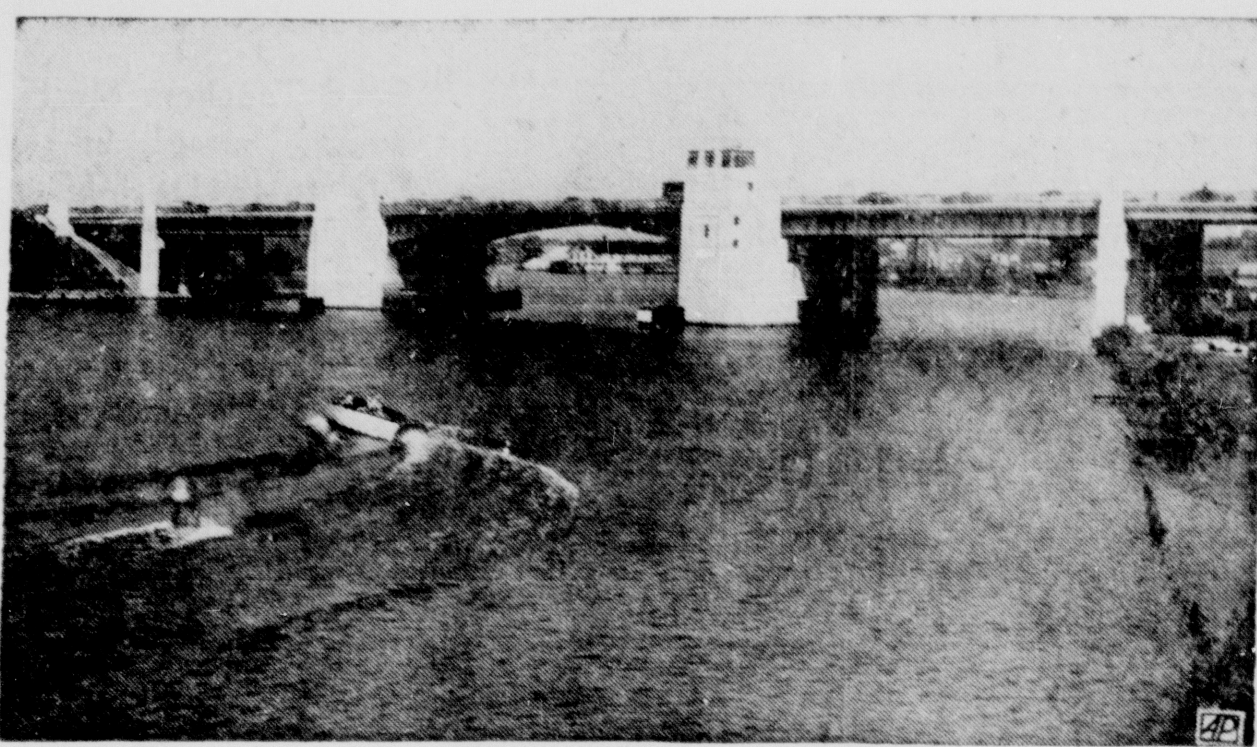

Ethereal Air or Fire

Just as they pioneered the path to the stratosphere, balloons were man's first practical means of flight. As far back as the 13th century, Roger Bacon theorized that a hollow globe filled with "ethereal air or liquid fire" would float upward on the atmosphere.

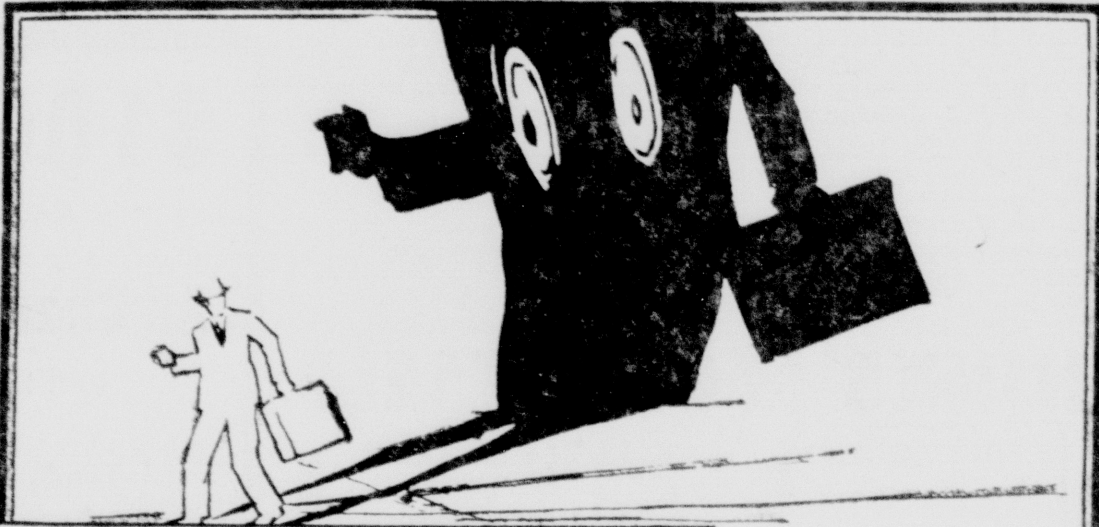

It was not until 1783, however, that the Montgolfiers of France first sent aloft a large linen bag filled with the hot air and smoke of a straw fire. They imagined that some mysterious vapor peculiar to burning straw lifted the bag, realizing only later that heated air was the actual lifting force.

Hydrogen was first used in a balloon in the same year, and the first human balloonist went aloft, Jean Francois Pilatre de Rozier, a court official of King Louis XVI, reached a height of some 3,000 feet.

In seasonal migration, Robins often fly from Newfoundland or northern Quebec to the Midwestern United States.

BRIDGE LINKS TWIN CITIES — One of the earliest post-war projects, Blossomland Bridge, gave the twin cities of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, Mich., a better travel link in their drive for closer harmony. The bridge across the St. Joseph River connects the St. Joseph business district with a cloverleaf which leads directly into the heart of Benton Harbor. The bridge was one of the first moves to weld the twin cities to closer cooperation. (AP Photo)

Former Communists Aid In Red Trials

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The use of former Communists as expert witnesses in Red conspiracy trials is defended by Warren Olney III, assistant U.S. attorney general.

"Who is better qualified to testify about communism than those who have occupied high positions in the party and who have personally engaged in conspiracy?" he asked yesterday in addressing the 34th annual convention of the California Peace Officers' Assn.

Olney added: "The reliability of the former Communist party members is shown in the 81 convictions obtained by the government in the Communist conspiracy."

Marie Zubeck, Clarence Trudeau In Bridal Rites

Miss Marie Agnes Zubeck, 506 E. Kingsley, Ann Arbor, became the bride of Clarence Albert Trudeau of Detroit at a ceremony Monday, Sept. 6, at St. Charles Catholic Church in Rapid River.

The vows were spoken before Father Thomas Andary who was celebrant of the 9:30 a. m., Nuptial High Mass.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zubeck of 421 E. Eldridge St., Flint, wore a floor length gown of rose point and Chantilly lace, designed with an illusion yoke, Peter Pan collar and long tapering sleeves. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of seed pearls fashioned into orange blossoms. Her jewelry was a pearl-jeweled cross. She carried white flowers and satin ribbon markers on her prayer book, a gift of Charles Clarke, organist of St. Thomas Church in Ann Arbor, who brought it from Rome.

Attendant in Pink

Mrs. Urban Hebert of Ensign, who was matron of honor for her sister, wore a gown of pink nylon tulle with a pink hat adorned with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was pink mums and white carnations.

Paul M. Zueck, of Royal Oak, a brother of the bride, served as best man and Urban Hebert ushered.

Baskets of large yellow and white chrysanthemums adorned the church altar for the service. The music of the wedding mass was sung by Miss Patricia Bolger of Milwaukee and Dale Tienert, organist of St. Charles Church. Rossini's "Ave Marie" was the offertory hymn, sung by Miss Bolger, and she and Mr. Tienert sang "Panis Angelicus" at the Communion.

The reception for 100 guests was held at the Urban Hebert home.

Home in Detroit

The newlyweds will live at 1233 Eastlawn in Detroit after a honeymoon in Montreal and Quebec. For traveling the bride selected a brown wool suit with mauve accessories.

The bride attended Nazareth College at Nazareth, Mich., is a graduate of Flint Hurley Hospital of X-Ray Technology and at present is a member of the staff of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Mr. Trudeau is a supervisor at Chrysler Corporation in Detroit.

Guests from Flint, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Toledo and Ensign attended the wedding and reception.

Church Events

Christian Science Society

The practical value of understanding God as the source of all true substance will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Substance."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (301:17-20): "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter."

MRS. CLARENCE ALBERT TRUDEAU, who repeated her marriage vows in a ceremony Monday at St. Charles Catholic Church in Rapid River, is the former Marie Agnes Zubeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zubeck of Flint. The reception was held at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Urban Hebert, at Ensign.

Miss Clifton Is The Bride Of Wallace LaTulip

Pink and white gladiolus decorated the altar of St. John the Baptist Church, Garden, for the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Ann Clifton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Clifton of Garden, and Wallace John LaTulip of Flint. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wallace LaTulip of Garden.

The ceremony was performed by Fr. Ronald Bassett Saturday, Aug. 28, at 9 a. m. "Ave Maria" was the offertory hymn.

The bride's gown of white lace was designed with a tiered net panel in front and a full length train. Her fingertip veil, edged with lace, was gathered to a sweetheart coronet. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings and carried a crystal rosary, the gift of the bridegroom. Her flowers were a bridal bouquet of white carnations, red roses and lilies of the valley with white satin streamers.

Bridal Attendants

Miss Carol Jean LaTulip, maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow net over taffeta with a lace bodice worn with a bolero and a front panel of lace on the full skirt. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Herman Strasler, wore a similar gown of Nile green. Their heart shaped headresses matched the gowns and they carried harmonizing colonial bouquets. The flower girl, Christine Thibault, was attired in a pink taffeta bolero frock. Her gold cross was the bride's gift. She wore rosebuds and baby mums in her hair and she carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Dale LaTulip was the best man and Herman Strasler ushered. Thomas Mullen carried the rings on a white satin and lace pillow. Mrs. Clifton wore a light blue linen dress with seed pearl trim, white accessories and a pink carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. LaTulip chose teal blue crepe with a yellow carnation corsage.

Fall Flowers

The reception was attended by 200 guests. Fall flowers were used in the decorations and the bridal table was centered with a four-tiered cake trimmed with yellow roses and topped with a bridal figurine.

The newlyweds will live in Flint at 1214 Lyon St. Both were graduated from Cooks High School in 1953.

Wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson, Escanaba, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Besner, Mr. and Mrs. William Holed, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Poupore, Mrs. Besner Jr., Manistique, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Duschene and Kathy, Leila Strasler, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Middaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Petersen, Cooks, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Strasler, Manistique, Mr. and Mrs. James McCracke, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Bernard, Bloomington, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Auvern Bernard, Manistique, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bernard, Detroit, Jackie Jones and Donald Kauthen, Flint.

Charlene Deloria, Jason K. Groll Exchange Vows

St. Andrews Church, Nahma, was the setting for the marriage of Miss Charlene Carolyn Deloria, Nahma, and Jason Kent Groll, Fayette, Aug. 28. Rev. John H. Ryan solemnized the 9:30 a. m. ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Antoine Deloria of Nahma and Antoine Deloria of Whipple, Ariz., while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lester Groll, Fayette.

A white gown of ballerina length styled with an overskirt of lace and net was worn by the bride. She carried an orchid surrounded by white fall flowers.

Sister of the bride, Miss Theresa Deloria, of Milwaukee acted as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of salmon shade. She carried a bouquet fashioned of white flowers.

Best man for Mr. Groll was James Collins of Fayette, ushering the guests to their seats was Harold Hebert, Nahma.

The bride's mother attended the wedding attired in a rayon print dress with black and white accessories, and the mother of the bridegroom also wore a rayon print dress with black and white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of red roses.

A wedding reception was held at the Nahma Civic Center from 2 to 6 p. m. Assisting in the serving were the sisters of the bride and bridegroom.

Upon returning from a honeymoon trip through the Copper Country, the newlyweds will reside at Munising.

Out-of-town wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pritchard, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. William Deloria, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. William Vinette, Isabella; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. William Thill and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Collins, all of Fayette, and Mrs. Roy St. Vincent and Jerry Gerou, Escanaba.

Shape pork sausage meat into flat cakes and grill slowly until thoroughly cooked. Put the cakes between toasted buns and serve with a garnish of crisp greens and cranberry jelly.

Death Claims City Pioneer

Mrs. Peter Caron, 90, pioneer resident of Gladstone, died at the family home at 408 Wisconsin Ave., at 4 Monday morning. She had been in failing health for some time.

Mrs. Caron was born Augustine Bournoville in Alsace-Lorraine, France, March 18, 1864 and when she was 4 years of age her parents came to America and settled at Brussels, Wis. She came to this area in 1886, the year before Gladstone was founded and on Feb. 17, 1888, married Peter Caron who passed away Jan. 26, 1943.

Mrs. Caron was a member of All Saints Catholic Church.

Surviving are five daughters and three sons: namely Mrs. Frank J. (Jean) Mallen, Milwaukee; Mrs. Harold T. (Mabel) VanNatta, Watseka, Ill.; Mrs. Lawrence (Myrtle) Gross, Gladstone; Mrs. Harold D. (Alice) Fox, Pontiac; Mrs. Richard (Marie) Barry, Marquette; Arthur J. Caron, Gladstone, Ill.; Walter Caron, Battle Creek, and Elmer J. Caron, Gladstone. There are also 12 grand children and 13 great grand children.

The body was removed to the Skradski Funeral Home where friends may call at any time.

The Rosary will be recited tonight at 8 at the funeral home. Last rites will be conducted at 9 Wednesday morning with the Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette offering the requiem. Burial will be made in Gardens of Rest.

Sugar Refining To Be Described

John Sargent, Menominee, Manager of the Superior Sugar Co., Menominee, will be guest speaker at a regular meeting of the Holy Name Society of All Saints Catholic Church tonight at 8 at the parish hall.

"Raising and Processing of Sugar Beets" will be the topic of Mr. Sargent's talk.

Members of Holy Name societies in a number of churches in communities adjacent to Gladstone, including Rapid River, Perkins, Rock and Schaffer are being invited to the meeting to hear Sargent.

Jack Forvilly, a patient at the Veterans Hospital at Iron Mountain with injuries received in an auto accident here, is making satisfactory progress toward recovery.

Child Lucky In Fall From Auto

Leona Mae Wright, 2½ years, of 503 Superior Ave., had a lucky escape from possible serious injury Sunday afternoon when she fell from an auto driven by Henry Murray, Spalding, on County Road 523 near Cornell.

The child, a daughter of the late Melvin Wright and Mae Wright of 503 Superior Ave., was in the back seat of the car and was thrown out when she opened the door while the auto was in motion.

Brought to the office of a local physician, examination revealed her injuries were limited to bruises on the forehead and left leg.

Harnies Win Class A Crown

First U.P. Team Ever To Win Championship

The Escanaba Harnischfeger softball team won an unprecedented state tournament championship at Battle Creek over the Labor Day weekend, marking the first time in history that an Upper Peninsula team came through with a Class A state crown.

The Harnies capped a spectacular tournament record by sweeping three straight games downstate to claim the title. The championship win over Midland Dean's Inn was the 15th straight in tournament play which began with the city tourney here in mid-August.

John Pieropon and Don Paulin shared mound duties for the Harnies in the downstate finals and their performances landed them berths on the all-state team selected by tournament officials.

One-Two Mound Punch
Paulin, a pick-up pitcher from the Dells league champs, fired a sterling three-hitter as the Harnies blanked Midland 5-0 in the title game. Pieropon tossed the tourney opener which Harnischfeger won over St. Joseph Smitty's, 6-5. Paulin started and was relieved by Pieropon in the 6-5 win over Midland Sunday.

In the first game against St. Joseph the Harnies came from behind with two runs in the last of the fifth to win 6-5. A single by Don Shannon scored Joe Ricci and Tod Butler with the tying and winning runs.

In the second game, against Midland Sunday, the Harnies broke a 5-5 tie with a run in the last of the sixth. With one out, Pieropon singled and moved to second on a sacrifice by Howard Rusha, Joe Ricci's single to centerfield scored Pieropon with the deciding run. In that game the Harnies blasted highly-regarded Al Linde out of the box with five runs in the second inning.

Faces Only 23 Batters
Paulin was unbeatable in the championship tilt. He pitched to only 23 batters, two over the seven-inning minimum while scattering hits in the first, fifth and sixth innings. No Midland runner got as far as their base.

Joe Ricci, left fielder, wrapped up the game in the second inning when he slammed a liner into center field with the bases loaded. The blow went for a double and Ricci scooted all the way home when the fielder let the ball by him. Shannon doubled and scored on a single by Lowell LaPlante to complete the five-run burst for the Harnies.

Besides Paulin and Pieropon, the Harnies landed Ricci, shortstop Charley Camps and catcher Tod Butler as well as Manager Chuck Peltier on the all-star first team.

Linescores:	300 020 0-5
St. Joseph	020 220 x-6
Harnischfeger	210 110 0-5
Midland	050 000 1-6

Milkovich Is New Highland Golf Club Men's Champion

Abe Milkovich captured the 1954 Highland Golf Club men's championship tournament on Labor Day by defeating Jim Douglas in the finals, 2 and 1, ending the match with a par-3 on the 235-yard 17th hole.

Milkovich had defeated Ollie Christiansen in the semifinals and new club champion.

Milkovich stroked par golf going out in the finals and was 2-up at the turn. A birdie on the par-3 eighth hole highlighted Milkovich's first round. The champ also matched par through the second nine.

Championship card follows:
Par out 444 553 434-36
Milkovich out 534 553 425-36
Douglas out 644 562 434-38
Par in 444 553 434-36
Milkovich in 435 553 43
Douglas in 445 542 54
Harry (Pat) McPherson beat Bob Meyer for the first flight championship.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)
New York — Teddy (Red Top) Davis, 133½, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Armando Savoie, 136, Montreal, 10.

Brooklyn — Ted Olla, 163½, Milwaukee, and Jesse Turner, 159, St. Louis, fought 10-round draw.

Los Angeles — Dickie Wong, 141, Honolulu, outpointed Frankie Cockrell, 146, Los Angeles, 10.

Sport Shorties

All New York fight referees are required to take two official physical examinations a year.

Milwaukee Edges Ahead Of Brooklyn For Second Place

By BEN PHLEGAR

AP Sports Writer

There's a new team in second place in the National League.

The amazing Milwaukee Braves edged ahead of Brooklyn Monday on the strength of a nine-game winning streak and Brooklyn's first double-header loss to Pittsburgh in 3½ seasons.

The New York Giants were six games ahead of Brooklyn and 6½ in front of Milwaukee going into Sunday's action. But they now lead Milwaukee by only four lengths and Brooklyn by five. The Giants and Brooklyn both lost two out of three. Milwaukee won four.

Indians Picked Gap
Cleveland spread up a full game on New York Sunday in the American League, stayed even Monday and now leads the New York Yankees by 4½ games. The Indians won two out of three, the Yankees lost two out of three.

There's a new leader in the American League batting race. Bobby Avila, Cleveland's hustling second baseman, caught Irv Noren of the Yankees with four hits Sunday and passed him with four more Monday. He's hitting .337 to Noren's .333.

In Monday's games Milwaukee defeated Chicago 13-2 and 6-1. Pittsburgh beat Brooklyn 9-6 in 12 innings and 9-7. The Giants whipped Philadelphia 8-4 but Rob- in Roberts came back to win his 20th game in the nightcap 5-4 in 11 innings. St. Louis bumped Cincinnati 8-1 in a single game.

Lemon Wins 21st

Bob Lemon of the Indians became the first pitcher in either league to win 21 games, beating Baltimore 6-1 in the first game. Then the Orioles came back to nip the Indians 3-2 in 10 innings.

The Yankees came from behind to edge Boston 6-5 in the first game, but blew a 7-0 lead and lost the nightcap 8-7.

Detroit won two from Chicago 9-1 and 3-2, the second game going 10 innings.

Washington defeated Philadelphia 8-1 and the Athletics shaded the Senators 3-2 for a split.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

We were wrong about Joe Louis, former heavyweight boxing champ . . . He did fight a four-round exhibition last week . . . He boxed against a Jessie Woolfolk of Chicago and gave him a bloody nose in the fourth round.

The Escanaba Eskymos came out even with Ironwood in the matter of first downs in the season opener Friday night . . . Each team registered seven . . . The Eskymo touchdown pass from Bill Bolm to fullback Dave Judson was the only pass completed by either team in the game . . . Escanaba tried six and Ironwood two.

Fans at the Negaunee-Stambaugh football game Friday night were dumbfounded when they saw Coach Willard Anderson's Stambaugh Hilltoppers operating off a T-formation . . . The veteran Stambaugh coach has used a single wing attack exclusively since 1935 when he took over the reins at Stambaugh.

Kingsford apparently has come out of the football doldrums this season . . . Coach Rae Drake's Flivvers had an easy time rolling over the Marquette Redmen, 32-12, in the opener . . . The Flivvs ran up four first downs and a touchdown within minutes of receiving the opening kickoff.

And the Soo Blue Devils served notice to Great Lakes Conference teams with a decisive 20-7 victory over Munising . . . The Munising defeat spoiled former Packer Pete Tinsley's debut as coach of the Mustangs . . . Halfback Ron Bentley led Soo's ground attack with 122 net yards on 21 trips with the ball.

One of the best performances turned in during the weekend's football openers was by Eddy Chaput of Lake Linden . . . Although his team lost to Calumet 14-7, Chaput scored a TD, registered seven first downs, gained 234 yards on 21 trips and got off a 46-yard punt . . . He weighs only 130 pounds.

Apologies to Dave Judson, Escanaba Eskymo fullback, for the mix-up on the scoring play at Ironwood Friday night . . . Unable to attend the game because of the press of early Saturday morning work here, we got our game information second-hand . . . Our informant thought Jim Mongrain had caught Bill Bolm's TD pass . . . We weren't able to contact the Eskymo coaches to check on it Saturday morning as they were on the trip back here.

Hogan Beats Cass For Escanaba Club Crown

Harry Hogan added another Escanaba Golf Club men's championship to his long list of trophies yesterday by edging Tony Cass in the finals by a 2 and 1 margin.

Hogan fired one over par golf in the first nine and then matched par through the 17th hole coming in to defeat Cass in the title match.

To gain the finals, Hogan beat Jim Kennedy 3 and 2 in the semifinals, Harry Needham 2-up in the quarterfinals and Augie Gafner 2 and 1 in the first round.

Cass waded through Leo Vinje, Francis Boyce and Elmer Swanson to meet Hogan. In one of the toughest battles of the weekend tournament, Cass eliminated Swanson 1-up in the semis. Boyce fired a 74 against at 72 for Cass in the quarters.

Kennedy scored a mild upset in the first round when he beat Jim Fitzharris, 1-up.

Following is the card for the championship match:

Season Tickets On Sale At Esky High

Season reserved seat tickets for Escanaba High School home football games are now on sale at the activities office at the Senior High, it was announced today by Allan Mathison, athletic director.

The Escanaba Eskymos open the home season Saturday afternoon against the Sault Ste. Marie Blue Devils.

Cooks Wins 8-0 To Earn Playoff Spot

Cooks earned a playoff berth in the Bay de Noc League yesterday by shutting out Trenary 7-0 in a special game played to determine fourth place in the final standings.

Joe Halverson hurled a neat four-hitter to notch the win for Cooks. Dick Rukilla and George Brown shared the mound for Trenary and gave up eight safeties.

Big punch for Cooks was a homer with one on in the first inning by Stub Carley. Cooks scored three runs in the first, added two in the second and two in the eighth. Burt Lund had two hits, a single and double, and Carley added a single to his home to pace Cooks at the plate.

Cornell forfeited its scheduled game with Garden to determine the first place team in the playoff bracket.

Pop Warner Near Death

PALO ALTO, Calif. — Glenn S. (Pop) Warner, former football coach who was a prime developer of the wingback system, was reported sinking rapidly in Palo Alto hospital today.

The 83-year-old Warner underwent surgery in July for removal of a tumor from his throat. A friend and former coaching assistant, Ben Winkelman, said Warner was unconscious most of the time and appeared to be growing weaker.

Warner coached the late Jim Thorpe, one of the world's greatest athletes, at Carlisle Indian School in Pennsylvania early in the century.

After stints at Cornell, Georgia and Pittsburgh, he came west to Stanford and took the Indians to the Rose Bowl three times.

Bauman Breaks All Home Run Records

ARTESIA, N. M. — Hitting the home run that broke all records was "just like having a piano lifted off your shoulders," Joe Bauman said.

Bauman, the 32-year-old slugger who smashed his 70th round tripper of the season Sunday, admitted the pressure had been terrific since he tied the record Thursday.

After breaking the record in the first game of a doubleheader with Artesia, the Roswell first baseman hit two more homers in the nightcap to set the new standard at 72.

The old record of 69 was set by Joe Hauser of Minneapolis in 1933 and tied by Bob Cruces of Amarillo in 1948.

Bauman, a 6-foot-4, 240-pounder, repeated that he plans to play the rest of his baseball for the Class C Roswell Rockets of the Longhorn League. He has played only in the minors or with semi-pro teams.

Rain Washes Out Tri County Clash

Rain Sunday afternoon washed out the scheduled Tri-County League championship playoff opener between Powers and Bark River.

The game has been tentatively rescheduled for next Sunday, Sept. 12.

Stranahan To Join Professional Ranks

NEW YORK — Frank Stranahan, a frequently-frustrated amateur golfer, is going to try to beat the pros as one of them from now on.

The Toledo spark plug heir announced his intention of turning pro in a statement just before taking off for Brazil Monday.

For some 10 years, Stranahan has been recognized as one of America's top amateur golfers. His impressive tournament record probably is second only to that of Bobby Jones.

Midwest Writers Pick Michigan State To Win

(Jerry Liska of the Chicago Associated Press sports staff has toured the Big Ten football camps and interviewed all conference coaches on their 1954 prospects. Following is the first of his pre-season size-up series.)

By JERRY LISKA
EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A band of 13 Midwest sports writers made Michigan State College the last stop on a flying tour of Big Ten football camps and promptly voted the co-defending champion Spartans the team most likely to finish first in the coming year. The other co-champion, Illinois, was second choice, followed by Wisconsin, Iowa, Ohio State, Michigan, Indiana, Purdue — Minnesota (tied for eighth), and Northwestern.

New coach Duffy Daugherty, successor to Biggie Munn — now Michigan State athletic director — put on a Spartan scrimmage for the "sky-writers" and it was something to behold.

Excellent Backs
The scribes had seen some excellent backs around the conference — Alan Ameche at Wisconsin, C. C. Carline at Illinois, Howie Cassidy and Bob Watkins at Ohio State, and Tony Brannoff at Michigan — but no school had so many so good as Michigan State.

Co-capt. Lefty Bolden, as fine a halfback as the nation may produce this season, heads at least a half-dozen ball carriers with the darting speed exploited so well in the Munn T-single wing system. The tip-off on how formidable Rose Bowl champion Michigan State looms was contained in two simple statements by Daugherty, Munn's former assistant. They were:

1. "We will try to play two units in every game."
2. "We will have good team speed."

Lost Four Backs
Not a single other coach even hinted he could field two platoons to play one—platoon football this fall. And every other conference mentor described his squad speed as "average" or less.

The amazing fact about Michigan State's backfield strength is that four fine 1953 performers, Billy Wells, Evan Slonek, Jim Ellis and quarterback Tom Yewic have departed and the pre-season No. 1 right half, Ray Eggleston, is out.

Fabulous Braves Unite Milwaukee

(First of a series of five)
By JOE REICHLER
MILWAUKEE (AP)—This is a story of what baseball has done for Milwaukee and what Milwaukee has done for baseball.

It concerns hundreds of thousands of normally staid, stolid and independent minded people who, because of their great love for baseball major league style, integrated into one wildly cheering, enthusiastic metropolis with a single-mindedness of purpose — to love, honor and pay for the privilege of watching the Braves.

The 1,826,397 fans poured into the huge, new County Stadium to set a new National League attendance record last year, Milwaukee's first in the major leagues. This year the attendance has passed the two million mark.

Big League Town
There is not a soul in Milwaukee who isn't convinced that the arrival of the Braves is the most tremendous thing that ever happened to this peace-loving, law-abiding town. Everything in the town became big league.

"It's the greatest shot in the arm the city and state ever got," said Robert Bassett, publisher of the Milwaukee Sentinel. "We might liken the coming of the Braves to Milwaukee to the arrival of a large new flourishing industry. It's helped us socially, financially and businesswise."

"It has brought the people together," said Wallace Lamore, managing editor of the Milwaukee Journal. "All the people of Wisconsin are saying: 'This is our team, our Braves.'"

Boon To Youngsters
"The Braves — Milwaukee romance is a perfect love affair," said Mrs. Peggy Hehmyer, assistant manager of the Plankinton House.

"It's a boon to our youngsters and has contributed greatly in decreasing juvenile delinquency," said Robert Stohard, chief probation officer for Children's Court.

"There are so many things that divide us," said George Muller, a beer salesman. "This is one thing that united us. It gives us all a feeling of gemutlichkeit (a German word meaning camaraderie, hospitality and good fellowship)."

Behind Bolden at left half are Gary Lowe, 180-pound junior; Rudy Gaddini, powerful-running sophomore Lou Costanzo, an outstanding open field runner, shifted from halfback to fullback.

Michigan State's line will be streamlined and seasoned. There won't be a man over 200 pounds in the starting forward wall.

Guards Hank Bullough and Ferris Hallmark and tackle Embry Robinson are the only Rose Bowl starters back, but there is plenty of class in the other 13 lettermen.

Co-capt. Don Klauht, Carl Diener, Elsie Duckett and John (Big Thunder) Lewis, all lettermen, provide great end strength. Robinson, Randy Schreengost, Roland Dotsch, Norm Masters and Morley Murphy are five lettermen tackles.

Four lettermen also return at guard, Bullough and Hallmark being backed by Dale Hollern and Bill Ross, while a fifth lettermen guard, Buck Nystrom, switches to tackle.

Fred Rody and Joe Badaczewski are lettermen capable of succeeding graduated Jim Neal at center.

Next—Illinois.

Batting — Eddie Mathews, Milwaukee Braves, was on base nine successive times, collecting his 35th home run, a double, six singles and a walk as the Braves moved into second place with 13-2 and 61 sweep of the Chicago Cubs.

Pitching — Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phillies, won his 20th game for the fifth consecutive season as he defeated the New York Giants 5-4 in 11 innings.

New TV Station Opens Sept. 10

The opening broadcast of WMBV, the new NBC television station on Channel 11, will begin at 6:30 Friday night, Sept. 10.

The broadcast will begin with the first chapter of the Gospel according to St. John, with which the station will begin and end all its broadcast days.

WMBV's main studio will then take on an atmosphere similar to a Hollywood premiere, with many honored guests being introduced as they enter. Joseph D. Mackin, general manager of WMBV-TV and its radio affiliate WMAM, will introduce some of the station's officers, including W. E. Walker, president.

Viewers then will be taken on a tour of the station. First they will see the settings for news, weather, sports, kitchen and several children's programs and meet the people who will be seen regularly on these broadcasts.

From there WMBV's cameras will give viewers some idea of the station's complex control room, transmitter, and film projection room.

Following WMBV's grand opening broadcast, the regular NBC program, "Cavalcade of Sports" will bring to the screen the week's outstanding boxing events, to be followed by an NBC film presentation, "Greatest Moments in Sports."

At 9 o'clock broadcasting will resume from WMBV's main studio with the station's first news and weathercasts.

The latter part of the evening will feature a full-length, first run movie and conclude before 11 o'clock with the station's distinctive closing prayer.

State Senator Named To Succeed Maybank From South Carolina

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Edgar A. Brown, South Carolina's National Democratic committeeman, was nominated Friday by the State Democratic Committee to succeed the late Burnet R. Maybank as U. S. senator.

Selection by the state committee means almost certain election to the Senate for Brown, who broke with Gov. James F. Byrnes in 1952 and refused to join the independent South Carolinians for Eisenhower Movement. He campaigned strongly for Adlai Stevenson, who narrowly won this traditionally Democratic state's electoral votes.

Brown, 66 and president pro tem of the State Senate, was nominated less than six hours before the midnight deadline for certifying candidates for the November election. The committee turned down an alternate course—advocated by Governor Byrnes to call a special primary and in the meantime put up a candidate who would promise to withdraw later in favor of the primary winner.

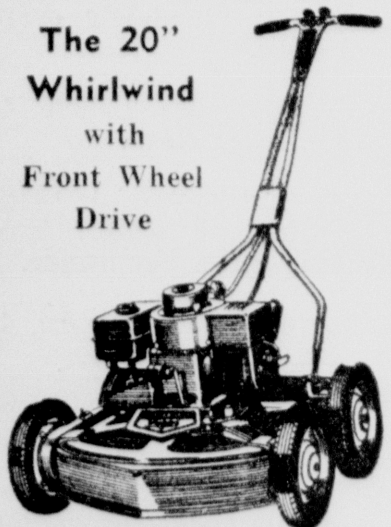

Byrnes said he would appoint such a primary winner to serve out Maybank's unexpired term, which ends Jan. 2. Byrnes declined comment on whether he would now appoint Brown for the unexpired term.

Kenya Forces Kill Mau Mau Gang Chief

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Gen. Kala Singh-second prominent Mau Mau gang leader caught within a week—was killed by security forces in the Mount Kenya area Friday.

Singh and 20 followers were waylaid during the latest security sweep. Three other terrorists were killed trying to escape.

Moscow Spy Ring Smashed By Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The Greek government says it has smashed a Moscow-trained spy ring aimed against Greece and has arrested about 40 Communist party leaders.

Premier Marshal Alexander Papagos hailed the roundup as the greatest success scored against the Reds since the Greek civil war ended five years ago.

Cleaning's a Breeze with my NEW JUNGERS

Yes, my JUNGERS unit is easy to clean under, high enough off the floor for a broom or sponge mop. This extra height means greater heating efficiency because complete air circulation eliminates cold, drafty floors and gives even heat.

Here's PROOF!

JUNGERS blue flame burner burns like gas with no soot — a white handkerchief proves it. This means complete combustion of fuel with no odor, heat waste or sooty pipes.
